By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An explosion and tongues of roaring flame blew out a 60-foot section of seats in the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum Thursday night, three minutes before the scheduled end of an opening-night performance of an ice show.

Stunned Indianapolis officials, many of them among the 4,100 spectators, reported a growing death toll of 68, and 339 persons were injured.

"We don't know what happened," said State Fire Marshal Mr. Anderson.

City and state fire officials agreed the explosion evidently was from gas of an undetermined type.

The blast lifted a section of 128 box seats, best in the house, and dropped it on a stretch of 240 bleacher seats just below.

Bodies were thrown high in the air and fell on the ice among the skating chorus.

The stars of the show—Holladay on ice—were waiting in the wings to skate out for the finale. It was a glittering production, representing the Mardi Gras, and the band was playing Dixieland jazz.

The band kept playing in the best tradition of show business, and the skaters hurried off the ice to make way for rescue teams. There was no panic as the shocked survivors fled out.

With hundreds of injured pinned under shattered seats and jagged chunks of concrete the obvious dead were left lying in pools of blood. The horribly injured persons lay unattended for what seemed an interminable time as the first few doctors and nurses on the scene did the best they could.

Every ambulance in Indianapolis and nearby cities was called, and the injured were

Seven Killed in Georgia Store Blast

By ROBERT DAVENPORT

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—A mysterious explosion ripped through a drug store at the height of a downtown Halloween celebration Thursday night, killing seven persons and injuring at least two others.

Fire Chief Howard Shaefer said the cause of the explosion had not been determined. Unconfirmed reports indicated the explosion may have been caused by leaking gas.

Firemen and civil defense workers worked through the night to clear debris in a search for other possible victims. The front portion of the two-story, concrete structure threatened to collapse, hampering rescue operations.

Hundreds of children and adults had come to the town square in this northwest Georgia town for a Halloween parade and window-decorating contest. Marietta, with a population of near 40,000, is 18 miles northwest of Atlanta.

The explosion occurred about 6:30 p.m. shortly after the festivities had come to an end.

Among the dead were: Ben Carter, 33, and his son, Terry, 7. They had entered the store to buy Terry a Halloween mask. Mrs. Carter and the other children, Danny, 10, and Bill, 5, were outside the store and received cuts from flying glass.

The other victims included Mrs. Ralph Fowler, mother of Bob Fowler, executive editor of the Marietta Journal. Mrs. Betty Joe Sarislie, 24, a store cashier; S. A. White, an oil distributor; Mrs. Orelia Scott and Mrs. Marie Barrie.

A dead were found inside the building. Twenty-five persons were admitted to a hospital with injuries. Most were treated and later released, but eight were listed in serious condition.

The corner drug store was demolished and windows were broken in stores next door and across the street.

The United States has temporarily suspended all assistance to the South Vietnamese government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and has ordered Americans to remain off the streets pending further instructions.

There have been no casualties reported among the 3,563 American civilians in South Viet Nam, State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said.

There are also a total of 16,500 U.S. military personnel in the country.

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — Three federal judges in a split decision granted an injunction against prosecution of major charges under which five integration leaders have been held in jail nearly three months.

Asks Damages of Tobacco Firm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Leo A. McGraw, 52, seeks $2,536,000 damages from the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. on a contention that he contracted lung cancer from the firm's cigarettes.

McGraw filed suit alleging that the tobacco company's advertising matter indicated the cigarettes were harmless but that actually they were not.

The plaintiff said he smoked the company's cigarettes for 30 years at the rate of three packs a day. He contended the cigarettes gave him lung cancer in 1962 and part of one lung was removed.

Russia Sends Up a New Space Ship

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today it has launched a space ship into orbit which can maneuver in all directions, changing its orbit both sideways and in height.

The announcement said the apparatus is called "Polyot One." Polyot means flight.

The ship apparently is unmanned, but contains a mass of control mechanisms which permit it to maneuver in such a manner that, if desired, it could be moved alongside another craft in space.

Such a project has been planned not only by the Soviet Union but by the United States.

The announcement, given over Moscow Radio, said the ship can "maneuver in all directions."

At one stage it flew with a maximum height of 92 kilometers (368 miles) and a minimum altitude of 343 kilometers (211 miles).

On several occasions during its flight it was called on to transmit data to listening stations in the Soviet Union. Its performance was described as normal.

Living on Crumbs While Foretasting Cake Makes Happiness for New Yorkers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"How do you live here, nice as it is to visit?" inquired the cozy critic. "Believe me, this place is for the birds — and I do mean pigeons. People no longer have a status here."

Well, she was a pretty girl, and I supposed she meant what she said.

But—oh, dullness!—how out of everywhere can you be? There are several kinds of people who knock New York.

There are the butter and egg men who arrive with a fist waving green and say they won't take any chicken feathers from anybody.

There are those from Chicago who say their museums have more places to park chewing gum than any we have here.

And there are the high-class ladies from San Francisco who complain they get their tennis shoes dirty riding in the subway.

Ouachita Forest Fire Believed Under Control

MENA, Ark. (AP)—An army of foresters, volunteers and soldiers and their three-day enemy—a 10,000-acre fire in the Ouachita National Forest—were at a standoff today.

Some 1,000 workers brought the fire under control early today, but weren't able to relax because of the smoldering "re-burn" the fire had begun.

Don Hughes, public information officer for the U.S. Forest Service, said an estimated .05 inch of rain fell over the fire area Thursday night and early today. The firefighters also were aided by slackened night winds Thursday.

"I'm confident we can now contain it," Hughes said. "We got a little rain last night. But after the rain, the snags and logs were smoldering inside. The re-burn on the forest floor has started."

The fire began in a 3,000-acre tract of the sprawling forest of nearly 1. million acres Wednesday, doubled in size that night and spread to some 20 square miles Thursday.

Fire men were severely hampered by continued "crowning" of the fire, which raced through the tinder-dry pine tree tops, sometimes at a speed of four miles an hour.

Tank trucks, bulldozers and airplanes spraying retardant chemicals were used in efforts to control the blaze.

Today, Hughes said, "It's still a dangerous situation. But if we knock it down before we get too much drying, I believe we can handle it."

There was no official estimate on damage, he said. That assessment was to begin today.

"We've said it burned 10,000 acres," Hughes said, "but we may have underestimated the size of it."

Besides the loss of timber — unofficially estimated at $2 million—there will be the loss to wildlife, its habitat, and to the watershed.

Hughes said demobilization of the Army personnel sent from Ft. Chaffee to fight the fire, would probably begin tonight.

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Plans to convert the Fargo Courthouse heating system from coal to natural gas have gone up in smoke.

Lignite coal is mined in North Dakota. Natural gas also is produced. But Fargo's gas comes from Canada.

Says Algeria Attacking Morocco

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—King Hassan II said Algerian forces attacked the Moroccan town of Figuig in mass today and he has ordered his troops to withdraw.

At a news conference at the royal palace, the somber king announced Morocco would not fight back.

He said his government will abide by a pledge made Wednesday in Mali to cease hostilities and seek a negotiated solution to the frontier problem with Algeria. A cease-fire in the frontier war is scheduled to begin at midnight tonight.

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — The cease-fire in the Algerian-Moroccan desert war doesn't take effect until midnight Friday and already the two North African neighbors disagree about what they've agreed to.

Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella and King Hassan II of Morocco signed the agreement Wednesday night with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali.

Based on a compromise formula drawn up by Selassie, it called for:

1. A cease-fire all along the Moroccan-Algerian border at midnight on the night of Nov. 1-2.

2. Withdrawal of Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.

3. Demilitarization of all evacuated territory with officers of Ethiopia and Mali supervising.

4. A commission to be set up by the foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity to determine the responsibility for the recent fighting in the Sahara, examine Morocco's territorial claim and make recommendations.

5. An immediate end to each nation's campaign of abuse against the other's leaders and political system.

6. Morocco and Algeria to solve all future disputes by negotiation.

Hassen and Ben Bella prepared to leave for their capitals. Haile Selassie flew to Switzerland. Then the arguments resumed.

The zone to be evacuated by the Moroccans was not precisely defined in the agreement. Algerian officials said it included Hassi Beida and Tindjoub, the focal points of the recent fighting. The Moroccans said the two outposts were not included and their forces would continue to occupy them.

A commission of Moroccan, Algerian, Ethiopian and Malian officers is to determine the limits of the demilitarized zone. The Algerians said they had the right to administer the demilitarized zone. The Moroccans said they did not.

Army Revolt Erupts in Viet Nam, Regime of Diem Said Ousted

President Calls Top Advisers for Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy met in urgent conference with top military and diplomatic advisers today to evaluate what U.S. officials called a coup of "real proportions" under way against the Ngo Dinh Diem regime in South Viet Nam.

The hastily arranged talk ran for 45 minutes.

The White House offered no immediate word on its outcome.

The 10 a.m. (EST) session came on the heels of at least seven hours of close watch on the developing situation.

Kennedy had been roused at 3 a.m. with first reports and had received a full briefing at 6 o'clock.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had been on the job since well before dawn, and high command offices in the Pentagon were manned.

Officials said it was still too early to evaluate the chances of success for the military uprising against Diem, but at least some of the top South Vietnamese military men were understood here to be involved.

Initial reports here were understood to indicate that at least in the early stages Americans in Saigon were not being made targets of any action.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said those called to meet with Kennedy included Rusk; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman; Roger Hillman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, and McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant for national security affairs.

While his name was not on the list, it was understood that Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency was among those summoned.

U.S. Troops to Protect Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today ordered military forces to move toward the South Viet Nam area to protect American lives if necessary.

A Pentagon announcement emphasized that this is purely a precautionary measure for protection of Americans, and does not represent any participation by U.S. forces in the situation in Viet Nam.

The announcement by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, said:

"As a precautionary measure and with approval of the President, Secretary of Defense McNamara has directed the movement of U.S. military forces toward the area of South Viet Nam."

The order went out through the Joint Chiefs of Staff to Adm. H.D. Felt, commander in chief Pacific, to take the necessary action.

"This order has been given should it be necessary to protect American lives in South Viet Nam."

Sylvester declined to name the forces ordered to move. However, it seemed obvious that they would include the 7th Fleet which is in the South China Sea, and probably units of the Air Force transport fleet based in Okinawa and the Philippines.

The Japanese embassy in Saigon said the rebels broadcast they had successfully taken over the government, but shooting was heard for at least two hours after that.

Compensation to Survivors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The survivors of a California college football player killed in a 1960 Ohio plane crash will receive $20,500 in Workmen's Compensation benefits, the California Industrial Accident Commission ruled Thursday.

The commission sided with a Los Angeles State District Court of Appeals ruling that had made the widow and two children of Edward Gary Van Horn eligible receive $70 a week.

Horn was one of 16 California State Polytechnic College of San Luis Obispo players who died Oct. 29, 1960 when their plane crashed in bad weather on take-off at Toledo, Ohio. They had played a game against Bowling Green and were returning to California.

Heavy Fighting Reported in Palace Area

By ROBERT EUNSON Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (AP)—A military revolt with strong backing broke out today against the government of Ngo Dinh Diem in South Viet Nam.

A high U.S. military source in Tokyo said he had heard—but could not evaluate—a story that Diem had been deposed and his adviser-brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, killed. There was no confirmation of either report, but hours after the revolt broke out it was evident that the Ngo regime was facing the sternest challenge since it came to power.

The United States, which has 16,500 military men in Viet Nam, ordered military forces near the country to move as necessary to protect American lives. This would involve mainly the 7th Fleet in the South China Sea and Air Force transport planes based in the Philippines and on Okinawa.

Confused and fragmentary reports reaching Tokyo through various diplomatic channels said planes bombed Diem's palace while rebel-commanded tanks and armored cars took over key street intersections.

The Japanese embassy in Saigon said the rebels broadcast they had successfully taken over the government, but shooting was heard for at least two hours after that.

A broadcast over rebel-seized Radio Saigon indicated the revolt was led by 14 marine and army generals and colonels, headed by former presidential adviser Dong Van Minh.

Another garbled rebel broadcast said Diem and Nhu had been given an ultimatum to surrender or be killed.

A former Vietnamese official, now living in the United States, said he was informed the new government in the process of formation would demand that the United States send Mrs. Nhu back to Viet Nam for trial. She is now in California.

The joint U.S. military advisory group in Bangkok said U.S. military officials in Saigon reported by phone that the Vietnamese army and marines were behind the coup attempt. The Vietnamese navy was supposed to be pro-Diem.

U.S. officials in Saigon told the Bangkok office they had

Madam Nhu Says Shame on Americans

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu said today that "if the news from the press is true" about a reported military coup in South Viet Nam "it would be a great shame for many Americans."

An aide said the Asian country's First Lady, resting here after a cross-country speaking tour, had not been told that her husband reportedly may have been slain in the coup.

Her statement was written in French in her own hand on hotel stationery.

"Indeed, we all know that many Americans had waited for this for a long time," South Viet Nam's First Lady said. She added:

"Now that the fruits of a just victory are so near" some forces are trying to "snatch it from its true victors with the help of some little people who are traitors to Viet Nam."

"Above anything we must have independence," Mrs. Nhu said. "Any foreign intervention means that independence is not respected."

Her aide said she had no immediate plans to return to Saigon. He said she would remain secluded in her eighth-floor suite until she has further word on developments in Viet Nam.

heard nothing to back reports that Diem had been deposed and his brother killed.
Vietnamese Embassy sources in Bangkok said Radio Saigon had been seized by marines and was broadcasting antigovernment messages.
Well-placed U.S. officials said the initiative was completely Vietnamese. They said the revolt appeared to be well planned.
Word reaching Washington indicated the leaders of the uprising included Gen. Tran Van Don, commander in chief of South Viet Nam's army, and Gen. Goung Van Minh, a military adviser to the president.

TOKYO (AP)—A military revolt erupted in Saigon today against President Ngo Dinh Diem and there was an unconfirmed report that he has been ousted.
A high U.S. military source in Tokyo said he had heard—but could not evaluate—a story that Diem was deposed and his adviser-brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, killed by dissident South Vietnamese.
Heavy fighting was reported around Diem's yellow stucco palace. Marines in battle dress surrounded the national police headquarters in Saigon and took over outlying police stations, apparently without resistance.
The fighting erupted at Saigon's luncheon and siesta hour. A half dozen high-flying planes drew fire from anti-aircraft batteries near navy headquarters and from troops in the streets, but there was no confirmation that any were hit. There was scattered firing throughout the city.
In Washington, President Kennedy summoned his top military and diplomatic advisers to the White House to assess the situation.
U.S. officials in Washington called it a coup of "real proportions" that appeared to be moving fairly far, though there still was no way of knowing whether it would be successful.
A qualified source said top military figures, though not necessarily all of them, headed the rebel movement.
Most communications from Saigon to the outside world were cut off.
U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, representing a war ally of South Viet Nam critical of Diem's strong-arm actions against Buddhist and student opposition leaders, saw Diem Wednesday the youngster can support his own weight standing, needing an adult hand only to steady him. He walks with a slight stoop and jeans into an adult arm across his chest, she said.
Roger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Beutel, took the matter in stride. They say their two other children, now 6 and 3, also walked at 2 weeks.
A Long Beach hospital said the earliest verified account of a baby's walking was at 27 weeks, or 6½ months. A pediatrician said he'd never heard of a baby's walking — even with help—before 6 months.
Roger, born Oct. 16 at a weight of 6 pounds, 5½ ounces, made no comment. He still can't talk.

taken to six hospitals in the area, including the Army hospital at Ft. Benjamin Harrison.
Finally the hundreds of firemen, policemen and civil defense workers turned their attention to the dead and began laying them in rows along the side of the ice opposite gaping hole in the south of arena.
Auto wreckers drove directly onto the ice to help tug at the chunks of concrete, some pieces as big as pianos. Finally a huge commercial crane was brought in, and it uncovered the last of the smashed seats.
Many of the bodies were charred by gouts of flame that roared 90 feet in the air, to the ceiling of the huge amphitheater, in the blast. The fire itself was quickly extinguished. There wasn't much inflammables material in the shattered section except the seats.
Twice daily the world's highest tides funnel into Minas Basin, eastern arm of the Bay of Fundy. When the moon exerts its maximum pull, tides rise and fall as much as 53 feet.

Barriers on Milk to Be Reduced

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The state Board of Health may relax stringent cow vaccination barriers so milk can be imported from other states to boost dwindling Arkansas-produced supplies.

Many pastures have dried up in the face of the state's five-month drought, necessitating supplementary feeding.
Arkansas requires in-state herds be vaccinated once a year and does not favor import of milk from cows in states with less stringent regulations.

Dr. E. J. Easley, assistant state health officer, said the board would be asked to relax regulations.

Easley said the board also will be advised of water shortages in Clinton, Leslie, Marshall, Green Forest, Harrison, West Fork, Cave City, Charleston, Waldron, Greenwood, Bloomer, Hot Springs, Hartford, Lincoln, Mountain View, Altus and Huntsville.

Arkansas has had 53 straight days without significant rain and the effects of the drought are beginning to be felt in many areas. There is no apparent relief in sight.

The forecast called for clear to partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures today. The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said there was a chance of thundershowers in northwestern Arkansas, but no general rain is in sight.

No rain was reported in the state Wednesday.
State Forester Fred Lang termed Tuesday a "pretty bad" day for forest fires. Wednesday was even worse.

In addition to the Mena fire, Forestry Commission personnel and volunteers battled 28 fires covering 678 acres Wednesday.
Lang said that among the fires not extinguished Wednesday was one covering 200 acres between Wickes (Polk County) and Gilliam (Sevier County).

Thus far in October, the commission reported, 787 forest fires have destroyed 12,458 acres of Arkansas timber.

There have been 4,771 forest fires in Arkansas this year, destroying 156,189 acres of timber, Lang said.

Launch Sunk by Waves Off Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Huge waves sank the motor launch Lematang in the Java Sea off South Sumatra Oct. 10 and 74 persons drowned, the Antara news agency said today. It reported five crew members were rescued by a passing vessel, after drifting for 10 days without food or water, but one of them died aboard ship. Antara attributed its story to a survivor, Jansen Siahaan.

Rangers Are Geared to Fight Fire

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A forest tower man spots smoke in the woods and gets a line of sight on it.

He flashes word to another tower where another line of sight is taken.

A forest ranger hurries to the spot where the two lines of sight converge.

In this manner begins the battle against a forest fire—a battle that has kept the personnel of the state Forestry Commission working seven days a week for almost a month.

The end to the fight is not in sight. Until the state gets a general rain, foresters will remain on an around-the-clock alert as they have been since mid-September.

During October, the state has lost 12,458 acres of timber in 787 fires.

The figures represent a disaster but it is a fair record when conditions are considered.

State Forester Fred Lang warned late in September that the forest fire hazard had reached a critical point. Day by day since then foresters have hoped for rain to end the threat. It has not come and the Weather Bureau does not see a general rain in the immediate future.

The Forestry Commission has 23 district foresters and 160 rangers scattered around the state with 8 to 10 in each district. These few men could not possibly fight all the fires and their success in holding down loss during this critical period is partly due to work of about 2,500 volunteers.

"Many times our rangers get to the scene of a fire and report something like 'Mr. So-and-so and his boy have got a line around it,'" Lang said.

Industries with an interest in preserving timber such as International Paper Co., Dierks Forests and the Georgia-Pacific Co. have volunteered men and equipment and are working closely with the Forestry Commission.

After a fire is located, procedure depends on its scope.

Sometimes the ranger is able to put it out by himself, but if it has spread, he sends out a call for a plow.

The commission has three to five plows in each district. These are small tractors which pull a special fire-fighting plow made up of two discs and a plow point. This cuts a path about four feet wide, turning under all combustible matter.

This path is cut ahead of the fire, and from it firefighters fight back toward the fire.

The commission maintains 102 towers in forested areas. These are situated 12 to 14 miles apart and they are linked either by telephone or by two-way radio to the various district headquarters.

The industries with firefighting equipment also are linked on the radio system.

Lang said advance organization — getting the industries' promise of cooperation and lining up a program for the commission's personnel — has helped hold damage down. He also credited statements by Gov. Orval E. Faubus urging caution with fires with helping control the damage.

Faubus ordered Highway Department and Game and Fish Commission personnel to help fight forest fires and men from these agencies have been used extensively in east Arkansas where the Forestry Commission does not maintain a regular fighting force. East Arkansas is mostly cultivated land and the Forestry Commission concentrates its work on timber land in south, west and north Arkansas.

by the deluge, windows were broken, pedestrians ran for cover, pavement was chewed up, lawns ruined, doors bashed in and homes flooded.

No one was injured.
The 150,000 structure, 54 feet in diameter, 32 feet deep and capable of holding 500,000 gallons, was being filled for the first time.

Officials of the East Bay municipal utility district said the tower was designed in the shape of a lotus to meet neighborhood objections to standard-shaped towers.

DOROTHY DIX

HE ODDS AREN'T EVEN

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My husband bolts his food at breakfast and dinner. No talk, nothing. We have four girls, the eldest is 6, the youngest 2. I had to go it alone when the last baby came.

The first time out of the hospital whom should I meet but my husband, strolling with his paramour.

All three of us started fighting then they jumped into his car and were off, leaving me standing there like a helpless dove. That might be had the gall to tell me the other woman meant nothing in his life.

"However," he said, "though a good mother, you're a poor wife—what you lack is sex appeal." How can a woman with four young children and no servant pay attention to her sex appeal? —Plain Jane

Dear Jane: Tell your husband to let his paramour mind your four children (feeding, nursing, mothering, washing, cooking, worrying) while you play her role as Miss Sex Appeal. Of course he'll say that's impossible. Admit you are well aware of this but that is what it would take to make you even with his out-of-bounds girl on a purely sexual level. Romance is a game for two. Marriage, with four children, is a project for six.

If he's a football fan, ask him how he'd like his team to start a game four touchdowns behind. If he's a basketball fan, ask what he would think of giving one of two equal teams a fourbasket advantage before the game starts.

I suspect, however, that logic and reason won't carry much weight with a man who can fault you for running second in the 100-yard sex dash with four babies tugging at your apron strings. And I doubt you are the kind of mother who would let your children suffer while you go all out to prove you still have the charm that attracted your sex-obsessed mate. Give him my leaflet, "Ideal Husband." A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Dear Helen: I started dating a divorced man this year. His ex-wife had remarried. He proposed marriage last March. I accepted him and our wedding was to be this fall. We purchased a new home for which I — not he — paid $400 down, plus buying all the curtains and so on.

Then in July he abruptly announced that his former wife was divorcing and they would remarry. I later learned he was dating another girl. Is there any way I can get my investment back? Would it be legal to take the curtains, bedspreads, etc., which are in the house—all being paid for with my money? Should I seek the aid of an attorney in doing this? —Miss Taken Dear Miss Taken: Consult a lawyer!

Dear Helen: I have been working two years. My father demands my whole pay check with the exception of $2.50. Out of this $2.50 I must buy everything except the barest necessities for myself. He made me quit school at 15 on the grounds that high school was too worldly. I was 18 last month. Have my parents still the right to control my life or can I leave home without fear of being dragged back? —Frantic

Dear Frantic: Unfortunately for you, in Pennsylvania a girl is answerable to her parents until she is 21. If you feel in your heart that you are being suppressed in your ambition to grow normally and experience the social aspects common to our society, assert yourself.

Living Cost Stuck on High Plateau

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Living costs are stuck on a plateau. Unfortunately for the consumer it's a record high one. And the prospects for change aren't impressive.

The consumer price index is 107.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This record was reached in July, held through August and September and apparently budged little if any in October.

The most optimistic note sounded so far is that there is little indication of a major upward move in the next few months at the consumer level, despite a rash of price increases in some industrial materials and products.

The statisticians think consumer prices will react seasonally, or normally. By seasonally they mainly mean the effects of weather on food prices. By normally they usually mean mean that some costs will go on rising a bit—the creeping inflation hat for years has kept the index always higher than the previous year.

For example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that its food index in September was 0.6 per cent lower than in August because of seasonally lower prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. But the food index also was up 0.6 per cent from September, 1962, largely because prices charged by restaurants have risen 1.9 per cent in the last year.

Some gasoline price wars and cuts in new auto prices also dropped the transportation index 0.4 per cent in September from August, although it's still 0.1 per cent higher than the year before.

All other parts of the index rose — whether seasonally, or normally, or in belated reaction to prior rises somewhere else along the line. Higher were the costs of housing, rents, apparel, medical care, personal care and reading and recreation.

The one-month advances weren't large, but enough to offset the break the consumer got from the easing of food and transportation costs.

There's little that can be done about the weather.

It's in services that the consumer has been feeling most of the effect of creeping inflation. Medical costs are more than 2 per cent higher than a year ago. So are reading and recreation and a host of other services.

The statisticians think the big advances in service costs may be over, however—from now on any increases can be termed normal.

So it looks like more of the same: Living costs may go on rising a bit; but if so the increases of one item or another can be labeled seasonal or normal.

JFK Thinks Russia Still in Moon Race

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has questioned whether the Soviet Union is abandoning the moon shot.

Kennedy told a news conference Thursday that he "would not make any bets at all upon Soviet intentions" despite Premier Khrushchev's statement that his country would not race to the moon but, rather, would profit from American experience in that field.

"I think that our experience has been that we want for deeds unless we have a system of verification, and we have no idea whether the Soviet Union is going to make a race for the moon or whether it is going to attempt an even greater program," the President said.

"I think we ought to stay with our program. I think that is the best answer to Mr. Khrushchev."

During a 31-minute session with newsmen Kennedy also said "we are not planning any reduction in United States combat knits in Germany" but do plan "some reduction in non-combat personnel" in the European area.

—Reported "a marked decrease" in the number of Soviet troops in Cuba since Jan. 1 and said, without giving figures, "there have been further reductions" in the past two months.

—Said negotiations on a possible sale of American wheat to the Soviets "are entering a critical phase" this week. He declined to speculate on the outcome, saying, "I think we ought to let the negotiators negotiate."

—Expressed willingness to engage in television debates with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., if he and Goldwater are both nominated as presidential opponents in the 1964 presidential election.

—Commented with some sarcasm that it wouldn't be fair to

Forrest City Asks for a Bypass

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mayor Rodgers Deaderick of Forrest City told the state Highway Commission Wednesday that a bypass connecting U. S. Highway 70 with state Highway 1 west and south of Forrest City would eliminate traffic congestion in the city.

The commission took the plan under study.

Deaderick said Forrest City had planned to seek Community Facilities Funds for the project, but no money was available.

agement leveled against him by reply to a charge of newsman Goldwater because Kennedy said the senator "has had a week selling TVA," advisory on nuclear policy, "attacking the president of Bolivia . . . and involving himself in the Greek election."

—Said that, "yes," he wants Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on the 1964 Democratic ticket and expects Johnson to have the No. 2 spot.

Discussing Soviet space efforts, Kennedy said he could not read into Khrushchev's statement at a Moscow news conference last Saturday any announcement that the Soviets are abandoning their moon program.

Instead, the President concluded that Khrushchev was saying the Soviets would not go to the moon without a deguate preparation—a point on which he voiced agreement.

"The fact of the matter is that then Soviets have made an intensive effort in space, and there is every indication that they are continuing and that they have the potential to continue," Kennedy said.

On American troops in Germany, Kennedy said American forces sent during the Berlin crisis will remain "as long as there is a need for them." He said six Army divisions in Germany will be kept at conventional strength but a reorganization of forces will mean some cuts in noncombat personnel.

Only Camden in Way of a Bobcat Title

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

The last obstacle between the Bobcats and the District crown-Camden will be the target of the locals on Friday night. The Cats journey to Camden for the final conference game of the season, in which they hope to lengthen their string of wins to eight.

The Panthers are fast this year, as all Camden teams are, but they have been plagued by bad luck, and lots of it. Their main fault so far has been their inability to come up with the big play.

The Panthers have a very confusing attack, so confusing that their own backs sometimes get mixed up. They can run from a wing T, a slot T, a double wing T, or a spread. They use a stunning, unorthodox defense, which has been rather effective. They are physically one of the biggest teams Hope has to face.

Hope fans expect to see Bobcats scoring in any of several different ways, such as blocked kicks, intercepted passes, loose fumbles, and even an intercepted lateral. All of these have been done against Camden.

One amazing thing about Camden though, no matter what kind of team they have, the Panthers always manage to get up for Hope, especially when playing down there. Actually, the teams aren't ever the best of friends. Fans are encouraged to follow the Cats down to Camden, and remember, the game starts at 7:30.

Cannon Set to Play for the Oilers

BOSTON (AP)—George Blanda and Babe Parilli, a couple of old warhorses with a knack for throwing a long ball, will go a long way toward determining the American League's Eastern Division champion Friday night.

Blanda of Houston and Parilli of Boston were longtime pros before the AFL was born. For the third straight year they bring their teams together with the division lead at stake.

The Patriots invaded Houston on the earlier occasions leading by a half-game and the Oilers won both times as major steps toward the division crown they've captured three straight years.

Now Houston, which is regaining the services of ace halfback Billy Cannon, has a 5-3 record, a one-game lead in the race and a three-game winning streak.

Boston, 4-4, can tie for first place by winning or become all but mathematically counted out if it loses.

Cannon who originally injured an ankle Sept. 8, has come off the injured deferred list and will play according to Coach Frank Ivy but rookie Bill Tobin will start at left half.

However, the Patriots are more concerned about Blanda—the quarterback they rate the toughest in the league to defense—and pass catcher Chuck Hennigan.

Unbeaten at home Boston has been erratic offensively though it still sports the AFL's best total defense.

San Diego's Western Division leaders visit New York Saturday night while the Sunday afternoon program lists Buffalo at Denver and Kansas City at Oakland.

Crippled Hogs Take on A&M Saturday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Crippled Arkansas takes on troubled Texas A&M Saturday night in a Southwest Conference football game that has no earning onto league race.

Both teams have lost two conference games and they couldn't get back in the race unless top-ranked Texas slipped twice.

Both the Razorbacks and the Aggies had planned to start sophomore quarterbacks, but Arkansas rookie field general Jon Brittenum was injured in last week's 56-7 victory over Tulsa and won't play.

Browns Think They Will Come Back

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Veteran Cleveland kicker Lou Groza trudged into the Browns' dressing room after last Sunday's 3-6 walloping by the New York Giants and said:

"Sometimes it does a team good having to eat dirt like that. We may come back stronger than ever and beat the daylights out of some teams."

The first to test the accuracy of Groza's statement will be the injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles, who've found themselves locked in a revolving door by the National Football League schedula-makers.

The Eagles will be up against a conference leader for the third time—and their prospect for success will be no better this Sunday than it was the last week. They lost to the Browns 37-7 to Chicago 24-7 and now face a Cleveland team looking to hold onto its one-game Eastern Division lead.

Meanwhile, the defending league champion Green Bay Packers and the Bears, tied for the Western Conference lead with 5-2 marks to the Browns' opponents. The Packers meet Pittsburgh at Milwaukee while Chicago is at Baltimore.

The Giants and St. Louis Cardinals, runners-up in the East with 5-2 marks to the Browns' 6-1, clash at New York, Los Angeles at Minnesota, Detroit at San Francisco and Washington at Dallas to roundout the program.

American League action gets under way Friday night with Houston at Boston. San Diego is at New York Saturday night while national schedule shows Buffalo at Denver and Kansas City at Oakland.

Air Service to Russia Is Shelved

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia have quietly shelved the idea of establishing a direct New York-Moscow air service.

Officials declined to say why, but there were hints that neither side was too enthusiastic about it now at the end of the summer tourist season.

The two countries were near an agreement on the air route in 1961 when the Soviets built the wall in Berlin, suddenly freezing the international climate.

The issue was revived last summer when, in the wake of the limited nuclear test ban pact, the administration listed it among the bilateral problems the two countries should seek to solve.

It was proposed that Pan American World Airways and Russia's Aeroflot should have one flight a week.

The decision to shelve the idea caused some surprise, as the air route was one of the promising U.S.-Soviet issues.

Negotiations on another bilateral issue, the opening of consulates in Chicago and in Leningrad and the signing of a consular convention, are continuing and progress is satisfactory but slow, informants said.

The United States and the Soviet Union have no consulates outside their embassies in the two capitals since 1948, the year of the Berlin blockade.

Bears, Green Bay Have Problems

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Both the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers, heading toward their big rematch Nov. 17 in Chicago, face difficult challenges this weekend in important National Football League games.

The Bears have been dragging in recent weeks but still are all even with the Packers in the Western Conference race. Now they have to face an improved Colt team in Baltimore Sunday. The Bears edged the Colts 10-3 earlier when Raymond Berry was out of action.

Green Bay's troubles beating Baltimore last week without Bart Starr and Tom Moore. Starr still is out but the Packers added Zeke Brathowski to back up John Roach against tough Pittsburgh. The Steelers still have a shot in the East but they must take this one.

Thanks to the Giants, things were better last week and the old average went up to 34-14-1 for the NFL. But the two-league total is 44-28-3. Let's try again: (All games Sunday unless otherwise indicated)

NFL

Baltimore 17, Chicago 14. The old Johnny Unitas-Berry battery is back in action and the Bears have been struggling. Ron Bull may be sub par. The Colts led last time 3-0 going to the fourth quarter but lost 10-3. This time they'll go all the way.

Cleveland 35, Philadelphia 7. You don't stop Jimmy Brown two weeks in a row, especially with no running game. Sonny Jurgensen out of action and King Hill a doubtful factor.

New York 31, St. Louis 20. Looks like a tight fit but, when in doubt go with old pro, Y. A. Tittle, over the hottest kid in the business, Charlie Johnson. Cards have top catchers in Sonny Randle, Bobby Joe Conrad but Giants are on the move.

Green Bay 30, Pittsburgh 20. Tom Moore expected back but Ron Kramer is doubtful for Packers who have won six in a row since opening loss to Bears. Steelers' Ed Brown had hot hand against Dallas last week but Packers' defense is rugged. The top field goal men will be in action, Lou Michaels for the Steelers and Jerry Kramer for Green Bay.

Detroit 21, San Francisco 10. Lion's defense too much fog punch less 49ers who lost first meeting 26-3. Injuries to Nick Pietrosante, Larry Ferguson, and Ollie Matson force Lions to count on Earl Morrall's passes.

Dallas 28, Washington 24. Same old story for the Skins with that leaky pass defense and Don Meredith throwing. Norm Snead should have better luck, probing Cowboys' vulnerable secondary despite shakeup by Tom Landry.

Minnesota 28, Los Angeles 24. Could go either way with Roman Gabriel on a two game winning streak. Both clubs banged up and Dutch Van Brocklin has whup out after losing four straight.

AFL

Boston 24, Houston 21 (Friday night)—A "must" for the Pats at home after 14-7 loss to Buffalo. Tighter defense should shut down George Blanda and Charlie Tolar for upset win.

San Diego 28, New York 21 (Saturday night)—Figures all say San Diego with solid running of Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe and passing of Tobin Rote. Jets made it close, losing 24-20 on the Coast and they are at home.

Buffalo 21, Denver 21—Jack Kemp over Mickey Slaughter in first of two week home and home series.

Oakland 21, Kansas City 14. Flip a coin. Kansas City collapsed in second half against Oilers. Oakland got hot with Cotton Davidson against San Diego. Oakland is home so they get the vote.

North Sea and told of hauling up one of their nets with a dead elephant in it. A spokesman for the trawler owners said:

"We can only suppose that the elephant either fell from some ship that was taking it to a zoo somewhere, or that, being taken to a zoo, the animal died aboard some ship and was thrown overboard."

The Feithle dumped the elephant's body back into the sea.

Danny Thomas to Quit Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television comedian Danny Thomas says this season will be the last for his Monday night show. He says "It's time to pick up the chips and walk."

The 49-year-old comic, in his 11th year with a network show, now listed among the top 10, said "I know I've said I plan to retire for the past several seasons. But this time I mean it."

He said he will accept motion picture offers and that he also plans six hour-long television specials.

Why quit now? said Thomas? "I can't think of a better time than when we're still on top."

Bids Taken on Interstate Route

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A. K. McBride Construction Co. of Fort Smith submitted an apparent low bid of $679,000 Wednesday on construction of 2.4 miles of Interstate Route 49 from Clarksville west.

It was one of nine road and bridge projects worth $3,114,598 on which bids were opened Wednesday by the state Highway Commission.

It was reported Wednesday that the W. D. Jeffrey Construction Co. of Fort Smith had submitted the low bid on the Interstate 40 job.

Among the other apparent low bidders was a $229,999 bid by Four Brothers Construction Co. of North Little Rock for improvements to 7.2 miles of state Highway 92 from the junction of Highway 16 eastward.

Picks Winners in Arkansas College Games

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Defending champion Arkansas State Teachers College and league-leading Arkansas A & M meet Saturday night in Conway. Either team can beat you 10 ways from Sunday—on offense.

But defense is liable to be the battle edge in this key Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football struggle.

It's at Conway, and that usually means something extra for the Bears.

It could be a great offensive show. The Bears and the Boll Weevils will send seven or eight leading offensive performers in the AIC onto the field.

The only blemish on either league record is a tie between Teachers and arch-rival Arkansas Tech (7-7).

Teachers' most potent offensive weapon is the pass. A&M has not demonstrated a decided weakness against a passing attack, nor have the Boll Weevils been decisive in halting one.

The Bears, on the other hand have not had opportunity to fully demonstrate their defensive finesse (except in the Tech game, which can't be used as a yardstick for any other game by either team).

So, simply in the face of doubt,

we think A&M has the better defense.

The Boll Weevils can't match Teachers' passing attack, but the Bears can't run with A&M, either. So, offensively, we think they're pretty even.

Defensively, they don't seem to be.

So we pick A&M, 17-14.

Arkansas Tech and Henderson play at Arkadelphia in a game that will probably keep one of them in the AIC race and end the other's chances.

Though the Reddies need this one (after last week's 9-0 loss to A&M), there's something in it for the Wonder Boys, too.

We like Tech, 10-0.

Southern State and Ouachita play at Magnolia, and the Mule-riders are just apt to break loose this time and get all those points they've "almost" been getting all season long.

Southern State should win, 20-7.

Harding College broke loose last week and slapped down Millsaps, 39-0, and hapless Ozarks hits the Bisons when they're high.

At Searcy, make it Harding 24, Ozarks 6.

Texarkana Ekes Past El Dorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texarkana came from behind to whip El Dorado 10-7 in a Big Ten Conference football game Thursday night, and Fort Smith battles Little Rock Hall at Little Rock in the feature game tonight.

El Dorado took a 7-0 lead over Texarkana in the first quarter at El Dorado, but the Razorbacks put a touchdown on the scoreboard in the second quarter, a field goal in the third and then staved off a fourth quarter drive to win.

Halfback Dewayne Patterson booted the 24-yard field goal that settled it with 4:10 to play in the third quarter.

The Wildcats went 70 yards in nine plays for their TD that came on a pass from quarterback David Self to fullback Randy Tate with four seconds left in the first quarter.

Texarkana drove 46 yards for its score, with David Cooper going over from the one with 5:37 left in the third period.

El Dorado pushed from its 18 to the Texarkana 22 late in the game, but time ran out.

Fort Smith needs a victory to stay alive in the conference race, though the chances of sidetracking Pine Bluff seem increasingly dim.

Also scheduled tonight are: Blytheville at Hot Springs, Jonesboro at Newport Little Rock Central at Conway and Pine Bluff at North Little Rock.

Vote Machine Legality Questioned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The

Little Rock City Manager Board asked Pulaski Chancery Court Wednesday if the city can legally purchase and install voting machines.

The city filed suit, naming members of the Pulaski County Elections Commission as defendants.

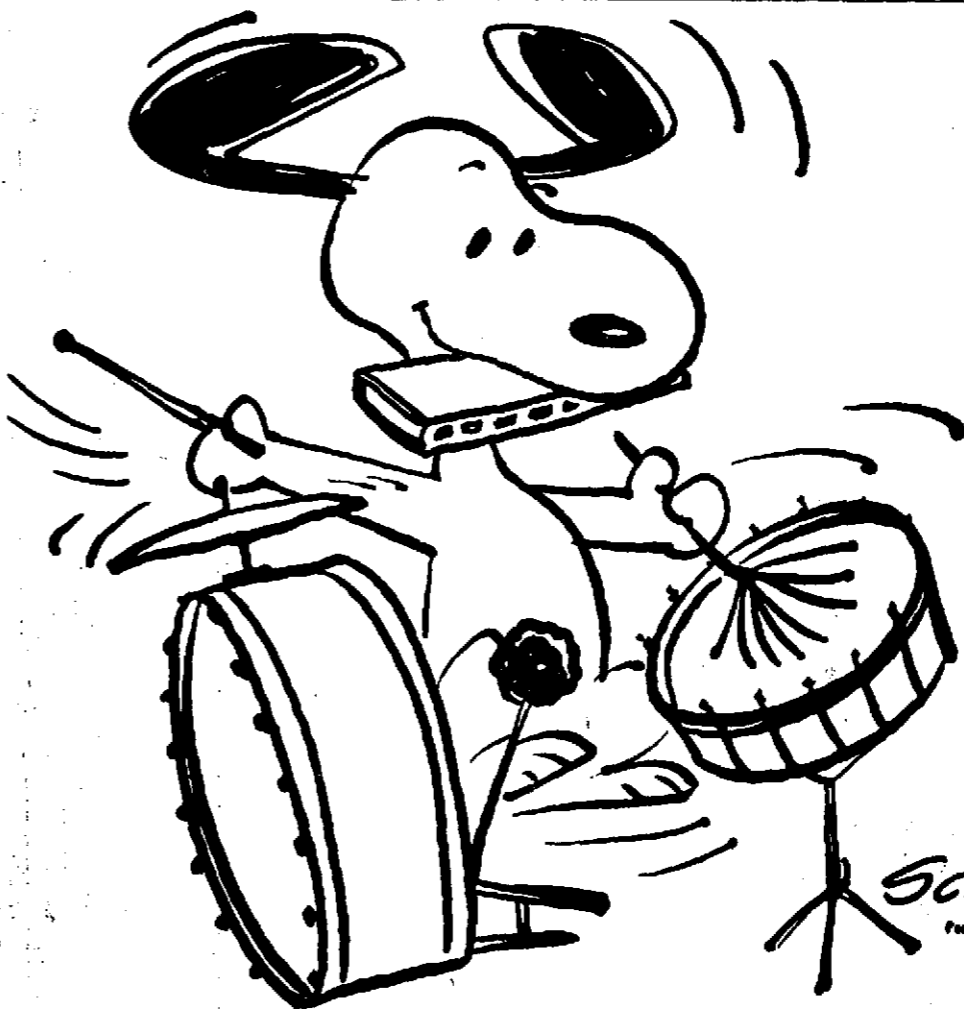

The suit asks two questions: (1) Can the city install the machines without approval of the elections commission?

(2) Can a 1956 election, in which residents approved the installation of voting machines, still be valid grounds for purchasing the machines?

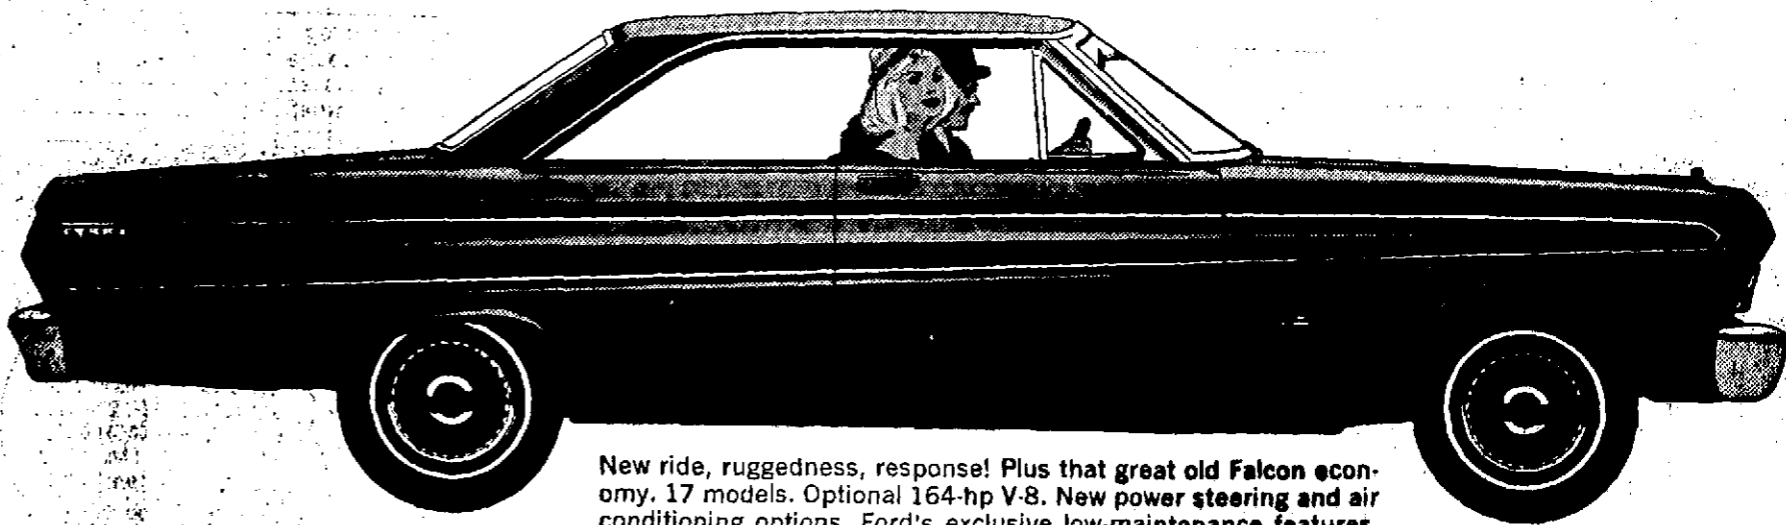

A 1963 voting machine law said the machines can be the subject of local option elections. Little Rock wants to know if the 1956 approval still stands, or if another election must be held, and approval gained again, before the machines can be bought.

After the 1958 election, the commission refused to install the machines. The city's alternative, the suit said, was to install the machines and deduct their cost in installments from the city's share of election expenses.

The commission turned down the alternative.
